

Mabbit Spring Trail – Signal Mountain

A short trail leads to an attractive area where two streams converge, with a spring and a small bridge. Shannon DeFriese has kindly provided pictures of the spring and one of the streams. The trail is on a gentle slope, with numerous exposed tree roots, and is often muddy. Beyond the spring, the trail loops around to the southeast. A 2.3 mile trail to Falling Water starts on this section of the trail.

Directions: From the traffic lights at the top of the mountain, follow the main road until you pass Lynn's Market; fork right on Fairmount Pike, then take the first right onto Key Hulse Rd. Take the second left onto Wilson Ave., follow this for 0.3 miles, and turn right onto Glenway Ave. The trailhead is on the left.

Approximate distances:

Trailhead to Mabbit Spring (direct route) 0.3 miles

Mabbit Spring to trailhead via Glenway Ave. 0.5 miles

Coordinates:

Trailhead N35° 10.12' W85° 18.21'

Map corners:

Top left N35° 10.44' W85° 18.52'

Top right N35° 10.43' W85° 17.66'

Bottom left N35° 9.85' W85° 18.53'

Bottom right N35° 9.84' W85° 17.67'

HikeChattanooga.com